JSOTR

Summary:

What they do:

1.At no cost to us, all of the Journals will be digitized and made available to the academic community on an article by article basis.
2.Academic institutions pay a fee to be part of the network, and we will receive a yearly royalty. Our authors and Journal will gain academic respectability, and the many articles in the Journals will finally be made available to the entire web community.
( Be aware, that if you GOOGLE the word bannerstones, our articles would come up, BUT someone who is not a member of the JSTOR network will only get a paragraph and title - not the entire article. Thus, the Journal is not available for FREE to anyone).
Membership in JSTOR will not hurt Journal sales, because:

1.  Not all past issues are available through the librarian
2.  At present, a researcher has NO knowledge of the content of our publication.

Actually, I think this could encourage Journal sales, as someone who is researching may want the entire issue. And someone who finds us on the web will seek us out.

I am attaching to this the letter to the CSAS provided by their organization.

If the delegates vote to move forward, I will act as the intermediary and see that everything falls into place.

I believe that our authors, our members and our organization will benefit from this.
I highly recommend that the delegates vote include our organization in this network.

Steven R. Cooper EIC